To Whom It May Concern,

It is with pleasure that I am writing this letter of reference for Jordan Gallant. I have known Jordan since February of 2013 just before she began her internship in my grade four class. During this time Jordan's commitment to becoming an exemplary teacher has become obvious as she has devoted much time to helping students and staff in any way possible.

Jordan has an exceptional way of dealing with the children. She is very kind and caring and shows an interest in not only their academic progress but in their social and emotional development as well. Jordan is enthusiastic and intuitive and she is always considerate and ready to help. She takes direction well and is eager to learn and do a good job. Jordan shows great initiative and often works through her breaks and lunch time to give extra help to students, supervise extra-curricular activities, mark papers, and prepare materials.

Jordan is very committed to becoming the best teacher she can be. She is continually self-reflecting and looking for ways to improve her practice. Jordan shows a great deal of maturity and understands that she must act in a professional manner. She has worked with other staff and students in our school and is a real team player.

It is without hesitation that I recommend Jordan for any position for which she is qualified.

Sincerely,

Wendy Sinclair
